Z 3

There is a very remarkable Custom among the Fellowship Porters, which is as follows, viz.

By an Act of Common Council, a Sermon is preached to them, in the Parish Church of St. Mary at-Hill, the next Sunday after Midsummer Day; when over Night they furnish the Merchants and their Families about Billingsgate with Nosegays, and in the Morning they proceed from their Place of Meeting in good Order, each having a Nosegay in his Hand. Walking through the Middle Isle to the Communion Table, every one offers something in the two Basons, for the Relief of the Poor, and towards the Charges of the Day; and after they all have passed, the Deputy, the Merchants, their Wives, Children, and Servants, walk in Order from their Seats, and bestow their Offerings also, which is a Ceremony of much Variety. The Charges of their Nosegays have amounted sometimes to near 201 in one Year.

4. Tackl Porters are such of the Ticket-Porters as are furnished with Weights, Scales, &c. and their Business is to weigh Goods,

&c.

4. The Companies Porters land and ship off all Goods and Merchandizes exported and imported to and from all Parts near the West Side of the Sound, in the Baltick Sea, Holland, France, Spain, Italy, Germany, Turkey, and all towards or beyond the Cape of Good Hope.

Of entering goods at the Custom-House.

I. OF Entering goods outward,
II. By certificate.
III. Inward.

When you have goods to enter, if you have not servants to do it, and think flaying an hour or more at the Custom-house to pass an entry would be too much Time lost, you may have clerks enough in the long-room in the Custom-house, who will do it for you for 6d. (if you make your bills of entry yourself) or they will make your bills, and pass your entry both for a shilling, which sew merchants, considering their attendance required as above, and their business otherwise, but are willing, and think it their safest and best way (much trouble ensuing upon a salse entry) to make use of the clerks of the Custom-house for that purpose. What I have to say in this section, is therefore chiefly designed for merchants servants, who are enjoined by their masters to make bills, and pass entries, and cannot well afford to pay for doing thereof out of their own pocket.

When therefore the goods you intend to export are made up firm and safe in bolts, bags, casks, chests, &c. you must mark each parcel with the same mark and number thus, 1, 2, 3, &c. which done, and you have agreed with the Captain for freight, and so are resolved what ship to have, draw your bill of entry thus.

In the Reward, John Bright for Lifbon. John Wood.

Six Dozen of Castors. Five Dozen of Felts.

Here you see is mentioned, 1. The ship's name. 2. The master's name. 3. The port whither the goods are consigned. 4. The merchant's Name that exports, which you will easily learn to make, let the goods be what they will that you enter, by first letting one of the clerks make your bills, and taking particular notice of that, you have occasion to do, though never so difficult.

Of these bills you are to write seven, one in words at length, which is to pass and in the rest the quantities may be expressed in figures, which bills are entered into feveral books by the clerks.

If you export several sorts of goods at once, and some are free, others pay custom, you must have two cockets, and therefore must make two entries, one for the goods that pay no custom, and the other for those that do.

If the exporter makes not the bill of entry, which is wrote in words at length, himself, he must sign the same as at the mark * in the bill above.

The bill of entry being made, as above, you must pay your custom and sees for entry to Mr. Edward Smith and Mr. George Thornbury, according to the book of rates; for you must know that the act of tunnage and poundage lays a substitute of some most other forts of commodities; so that the books of rates shews how all goods shall be valued, otherwise goods rising and falling would make the sustoms to do so too; but the price being put in the book of rates, a twentieth part of that is the custom at 12d. in the pound of that value. As if you look in the book of rates for hats, you'll find beavers and castors rated at 2l. per dozen, a twentieth part of which is 2s. per dozen, or 2d. per hat, and 1d. per hat for selts.

Having paid your custom, get your Cocket (which is in the words following) wrote on a small piece of parchment about four inches broad, and fix or seven in length; in form as follows;

The

The form of a Cocket.

Ind. or Indigenous fignifies natural born.

Know ye that John Wood Ind. for fix dozen of castore, and five dozen of felts, in the Reward, John Bright, for Liston, paid all duties, dat. 24 July, 1698, Anno Guliel. Decimo.

On the backfide of this cocket write down the mark, numbers, and also the quantity of your goods contained in the cocket, thus:

W

No. 1. I Box qt. 6 dez. caftors.

1 Box qt. 5 dez. felts.

If several sorts of goods are in the same package, you must indorse, Cum allis, Transcribe on a piece of clean paper your bill of entry, and then you have a shipping bill; on the backfide of which write the mark, number, and contents, as you did on the backfide of your cocket.

But in your bill of entry and shipping bill, you need not put down the mark and number, but only on the backfides as abovefaid.

This shipping bill with your cocket, both endorsed on the backfide as above, you must deliver at the water-fide to the searcher when you ship off your goods; which cocket is to remain in the searcher's office, and will be delivered to the master of the ship upon his going off.

For entering goods that are to be exported by certificate, you must know, that to export goods by certificate, is to export foreign goods that were formerly imported; which goods if an Englishman export within twelve months, or a stranger within nine months after importation, there is a drawback allowed to such exporter of part (viz. for some commodities more, for others less) of the custom paid at importation. But this drawback is not to be allowed, unless the exporter produce a certificate, signed by the collector or comptroller of the customs, that those goods paid custom inwards within the time abovesaid; upon which certificate a cocket is granted the exporter, which is called a certificate cocket.

The form of a Debenture for custom to be drawn back.

Valentine Vantrump Ind. did enter with us two thousand ells holland linnen, the third of August 1698, in the Coronation, John Bennet, Master, for Barbadoes, the subsidy and impost whereof was paid inward by Samuel Round the first of March last, as doth appear by the certificate of the collector inwards; and for the farther manifestation of his just dealing herein, he hath also taken outh before us of the same.

Custom-House, Landon, Aug. 3, 1698.

To this debenture the exporter is to make oath to the collector at the bench in the long-room to this effect :

Juravit Valentine Vantrump, That the same holland linen above-mentioned was really shipped out, and hath not been relanded in any port or creek in England or Wales since last shipped. Aug. 3, 98.

Signed Will. Townsend,

or

Tho. Causton,

The Messieurs Walpole are collectors.

The form of a Certificate Cocket.

London. Know ye that Valentine Vantrump Ind. for two thousand ells Hollandlinen, paid per Samuel Round the first of March last, late unladen, and now in the Coronation, John Bennett, for Barbadoes, Dat. Aug. 3, 1698.

When therefore you would get a certificate-cocket for goods that you are about to transport, you must take out of the books of the importer the day when the custom inward was paid, and by whom, and carry that to the long-room in the custom-house, and deliver it (with the quantity you would export) to the clerk to the comptroller of the subsidy inward and outward, which is now Mr. Townsend, son. and jun. and Tho. Causton, who will search the books: and finding the custom paid inward, will make out a certificate, upon which certificate you have a cocket granted for shipping your goods off, and a drawback of part of the custom and subsidy paid inward, provided you export the goods by certificate in time as is aforesaid; and if not worth while to draw back, may be entered in the free cocket, calling them out of time.

For entering goods inwards at the Custom-House.

Having a letter of advice, that the ship is arrived which has your goods on board, you must search the ships entry-book at the custom house, which lies publick in the long-room, where you will find the ship's and captain's names also the land-waiters names appointed to attend the unlading, and at what key the goods will be landed. As thus,

Wanley and Ifaacson.

Three Brothers of London, Isaac Greenwood, a Barbadoes, Cust.

Here you see is 1. The land-waiters names. 2. The ship's. 3 The Captain. 4. The place whence the ship is arrived. 5. The key she unlades at.

And if you find the ship entered, you may likewise enter your goods; as suppose they be ten bags of cotton, which though it pays no custom (if from our plantations in America) yet must, as all other goods inward, be landed by warrant; which warrant cannot be obtained without entry, and paying the feesfor entry, though free as to custom: And the same may be said of sustians and cheese outward: The first of which pays no duty, and the latter none, unless its value exceeds 30s. per hundred; yet these and all goods, though exported or imported free, must however be entered at the custom-house, and shipped off by cocket, or landed by warrant. Make your bill of entry therefore for cotton-wool, thus:

The form of a Bill of Entry Inward.

In the Referve, Tho. Hook, from Barbadoes. John How.

Ten bags of cotton-wool of the growth of the English plantations.

If the duty of your entry is above 10l. pay it into the treasury to Mr. Lomas, and take his note to the person that collects the duty of the goods you enter inward.

2. Of these bills of entry, you must write eight, and one in words at length as the foregoing, which is for the warrant, and must be signed by the party in whose name the goods are entered, and your mark must be inserted in the margent, but the other seven may be wrote in sigures; all which being sinished, carry them to Mr. Farr in the Long-room, and pay him the see for entry and custom, and so your entry will pass, and the land-waiters will that afternoon

ternoon have a warrant for the landing your goods; which warrant may be feen at any time afterwards in the jerker's office.

If bonds given; for wine, Mr. Mayne and Mr. Merriot; for exciseable liquor, Mr. Speidell and Mr. Tull; for West-India goods, N.r. Farr and Mr. Speidel.

3. The fees for entry are as follows:

					s. d.
For a freeman of London	•				2 6
An unfreeman, who is a					3 2
An alien or stranger		•	•		3 10
A navigator -	• 	•			4 2
And if they neither w	rite their bills	nor pass	their ent	ry themselv	es they

And if they neither write their bills, nor pals their entry themselves, they must then pay 1s. more, as by the second article foregoing.

Note, That an alien is one that is no Englishman born; and a navigator one that imports goods in a foreign bottom, as allowed by the act of navigation.

4. It might perhaps have been expected fomething more particular should have been said of passing entries, and writing bills; but the cases being so various (as was said before) it would be impossible to give an example for each, and therefore, as an addition to what goes before, the most ample directions in these matters are for the party, who has often occasion to enter goods, and yet is ignorant thereof, to observe very narrowly how his own bills are made by the clerks, and by this means, in a very short time, he will be enabled to make his bills of entry himself. And the same method may be taken as to passing an entry, by observing through whose hands they pass. But in all unusual entries, the safest way is to get a clerk in the long-room to make your bill of entry for if you should enter a thing under one denomination that should be entered under another, you will go near to be obnoxious to the penalty of making either a salse entry, or none at all.

Some of the clerks of the custom-house are very cautious lest any one should understand their way of passing an entry; but, by due care, any one that is minded may (after two or three timesseeing the clerks write the bills, and pass the entries) do the same himself: And every merchant may much easier, and with more truth and safety, learn (by practice) to enter the particular goods he deals in, than he could do by any rules that can possibly be given by the most knowing in these matters.

5. But I have feen goods that no officer in the long-room could tell how to, enter or make a bill for by the invoice, when the custom is paid by the lengths, &c. and those lengths or quantities are not expressed in the invoice: In this case the best way is to attend the coming of your goods to hand out of the ship or lighter, and when they do, desire the land-waiter that they may be carried to the King's warehouse, which is under the long-room, and there the surveyor of the warehouse will see the lengths measured, or just quantities taken, and will make you have a bill of entry accordingly; which when you have passed, you may have your goods out of the warehouse.
